“ I loved and appreciated how your family welcomed mine into your home. After so many years, being able to reconnect meant the world to me. I know my mom Jessie, fondly called Pig, was smiling down from the heavens. Bill was just as funny as I remember, and I’m grateful to you all for making that moment possible. Thank you for giving me a memory I will always hold close. Rest peacefully cousin Bill, a life filled with love.

“ I love my neighbor that lived right across the street from us on Hampton back in the early seventies. He taught me how to work on houses. He showed me songs on my baby grand piano when I was learning to play. He loved his wife and children they were the apple of his eye. I was blown away when he shared with me that he played the twelve string guitar and he had a song listed on Billboard. I have nothing but fond memories of my old friend and his family. Take your rest Bill love you. Pastor James Ivory Carter,sr

Mr. Becoat and my husband Delbert Connors were great buddies. Bill was the inventor and Del listen and tried to help out with his ideals. They were great friends and Mr. Bill as I called him was always willing to help me around the house when needed. He was always respectful and a great man to know. He and Del are now together and probably trying to invent something up there. They both are going to be miss so so much, or maybe Mr. Bill is playing a tune for the Lord, he loved his music. Praying for the family for strength and peace.
